
Two engineering trials; not an IID success-rate estimate. Local support and parallel-grip overlay.
Contact scope and negative-route difference remain documented in the independent R8 validation.